Opening of Environmental Consulting Office in Fort Collins, Colorado

MarCom, LLC is excited to announce the company has expanded into Colorado with a new office in Fort Collins. This location will provide environmental consulting services for industries such as oil and gas, government agencies, real estate and development, and other private sectors such as agricultural and livestock.

The Fort Collins team is comprised of experts in the industry, lead by Jennifer Galles, a registered Professional Geologist and Recognized Environmental Professional. She has over 14 years in the environmental industry and aims to help clients with environmental regulatory compliance and remediation services. Her team provides the following services:

- Phase I/II Environmental Site Assessments (due diligence for commercial real estate)
- Environmental sampling of soil, surface water, groundwater, soil vapor, and air
- Petroleum underground storage tank remediation under Colorado Oil and Public Safety regulations
- Oil and gas services under Colorado Oil and Gas Conservation Commission regulations
- Subsurface investigations and remediation
- Waste characterization and disposal
- Environmental Permitting
- Environmental Compliance
- Stormwater Pollution Prevention Plans (SWPPPs)
- Spill Prevention Control and Countermeasures (SPCCs)
